15. Next regular meeting of Library Board: Monday, November 20, 2017 at 7:30 p.m.

Persons with disabilities that may require assistance for effective participation in this public meeting should contact the Library at the number (248) 647-1700 or (248) 644-5115 (for the hearing impaired) at least one day before the meeting to request help in mobility, visual, hearing, or other assistance.

Las personas con incapacidad que requieren algún tipo de ayuda para la participación en esta sesión pública deben ponerse en contacto con la oficina del escribano de la biblioteca en el número (248) 647-1700 o al (248) 644-5115 (para las personas con incapacidad auditiva) por lo menos un día antes de la reunión para solicitar ayuda a la movilidad, visual, auditiva, o de otras asistencias. (Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964).
1. Call to Order and Roll Call

The meeting was called to order by President Frank Pisano at 7:30 p.m.

All assembled recited the pledge of allegiance.

Library Board present: Sheila Brice, Frank Pisano, Bob Tera, Dave Underdown, James Suhay, Ashley Aidenbaum, and student representative Siena Capone.

Absent and excused: None.

Library Staff present: Doug Koschik, Library Director; Rebekah Craft, Associate Director; Paul Gillin, Administrative Assistant; Maeve Devlin, Youth Librarian; and Judah Richardson, Technology Assistant – Idea Lab.

Friends of the Baldwin Public Library: No representative present.

Beverly Hills Liaison: Lee Peddie.

Bloomfield Hills Liaison: No representative present.

Members of the public: None.

Pisano asked Capone to read aloud the Library’s mission statement.

2. Consent Agenda

Motion: To approve the consent agenda.

1st Tera
2nd Brice

A roll call vote was taken.

Yeas: Pisano, Brice, Tera, Aidenbaum, Suhay, and Underdown.

Nays: None.

Absent and excused: None.

The motion was approved unanimously.

Board Reports and Special Announcements: Pisano thanked Craft and Koschik for attending the Bloomfield Hills open house on September 17. In addition, he expressed his appreciation for the recent Staff Development Day. Pisano then acknowledged the following anniversaries: Sower - 10 years; Volpe - 12 years; Bolek-Toubeaux - 16 years; Rouan - 17 years; Sander - 15 years; Finnell - 21 years; and Nixon - 15 years.
Brice commended Klimmek and Williams for the recent Read in the Park event held in Beverly Hills. She noted that the children’s author Wong Yee and adult author Professor Howard Markel were well received by youngsters and adults. The crafts area created by the Youth Department was a good addition and kept children occupied while the adult program was being held. Brice paid compliments to the Village of Beverly Hills Parks and Recreation Board for hosting this event, establishing the Storybook Trail, and giving away white pine tree saplings. Brice also requested that we post some links on our website that explain how patrons could contribute to libraries in areas stricken by recent hurricanes, particularly those in Texas hit by Hurricane Harvey.

Pisano introduced two new employees: Maeve Devlin, Youth Librarian and Judah Richardson, Technology Assistant – Idea Lab. Both talked briefly about themselves and their accomplishments.

Craft highlighted the Library’s upcoming events, which can be found on page 79 of the September Board packet.

3. Board Committee Reports

Finance Committee: Tera reported that the Finance Committee met on Monday, September 11, 2017 at 4:30 p.m. Baldwin ended FY 2016-2017 with a fund balance of $460,986; details will be in the October Board packet. The FY 2017-2018 budget continues to track well after its first couple of months. Tera also mentioned that he attends the City’s Retiree Healthcare Investment Committee and Retiree Investment Committee meetings to monitor on behalf of the Library employees who are covered under the City’s defined benefit plan. Pisano asked for an update on the “as-built” engineering drawings, which Koschik provided. Suhay asked when the RFQ would go out and when would responses be due; Koschik said it would go out later in the week, and the deadline for a response would be roughly two weeks after that. A complete report of the Finance Committee meeting can be found on pages 14-16 of the September Board packet.

The next meeting of the Finance Committee will be on Wednesday, October 11, 2017 at 4:30 p.m.

Building Committee: Suhay reported that the Building Committee met on Wednesday, September 6, 2017 at 4:30 p.m. He highlighted a few of the items from the complete minutes, which can be found on pages 17-22 of the September Board packet. Bids for the conceptual/schematic design of the Youth Room expansion and renovation are due by 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, September 19.

The next meeting of the Building Committee will be Monday, September 25 at 4:30 p.m.

4. Library Report: Koschik and Craft presented highlights from the Library Report, which can be found on pages 23-40 of the September Board packet. One item not in the packet that Craft mentioned was the recent damage to the book drop, which will be sent out for repair. Aidenbaum suggested sharing the Michigan Social Safety Net material from Staff Development Day with other City divisions.

5. Liaisons

Friends of the Library: There was no report. Pisano thanked them for their continued support.

Beverly Hills: Lee Peddie thanked Koschik and Brice for assistance with the Read in the Park program.
Bloomfield Hills: There was no report.

6. Unfinished Business: There was no unfinished business.

7. New and Miscellaneous Business: Koschik discussed the one-page “Goals and Objectives of the Proposed Youth Renovation” document on page 42 of the September Board packet. This will be shared with Library patrons and other interested parties. The Board was appreciative of staff’s effort to summarize the project in one page. Aidenbaum suggested having a graphically designed version available at Books and Bites and in the Youth Room.

Koschik discussed the Library’s FY 2016-2017 Action Plan and the accomplishments it has engendered. The complete document can be found on pages 43-53 of the September Board packet. He then discussed the proposed FY 2017-2018 Action Plan. Koschik called attention to the items in green, which are especially time-sensitive and/or time-consuming. Tera acknowledged the tremendous amount of work that went into the two documents. Brice asked if the Idea Lab policies would come from the staff and be reviewed by the Policy Committee. Koschik said yes. Aidenbaum wondered if the language on Goal III Item C regarding fundraising was too vague and whether it should be refined. Discussion ensued, after which Pisano suggested adding this topic to the agenda of the October 2 special meeting on October 2, 201. The Board agreed. Aidenbaum suggested that when the 2018-19 goals and objectives are evaluated a year from now, some sort of quantitative or qualitative measure of achievement should be included. The complete document can be found on pages 54 - 58 of the September Board packet.

8. Items Removed from the Consent Agenda: No items were removed.

9. Information Only: See pages 59 – 79 of the September Board packet.

10. Adjournment

Motion: To adjourn the meeting.

1st Tera
2nd Suhay

Yea: Pisano, Brice, Tera, Aidenbaum, Suhay, and Underdown.
Nay: None.
Absent and excused: None.
The motion was approved unanimously.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:48 p.m. The next regular meeting will take place on Monday, October 16, 2017 at 7:30 p.m.
1. Call to Order and Roll Call

The meeting was called to order by President Frank Pisano at 7:19 p.m. in the Jeanne Lloyd Room.

Library Board present: Ashley Aidenbaum, Dave Underdown, Frank Pisano, James Suhay, Sheila Brice, Bob Tera.

Absent and Excused: None.

Library Staff present: Doug Koschik, Library Director; Rebekah Craft, Associate Director; Stephanie Klimmek, Head of Youth Services

Members of the Public: Two members of the public were present, along with two representatives from Integrated Design Solutions and three from Luckenbach Ziegelman Gardner.

Those present recited the Pledge of Allegiance.

President Frank Pisano led meeting attendees in a moment of silence to remember and honor the people who lost their lives or were injured in the Las Vegas shooting on October 1.

2. Presentations by Two Architectural Firms

Presentations were made by the two firms that had been shortlisted by the Building Committee: Integrated Design Solutions and Luckenbach Ziegelman Gardner. Each firm was given forty minutes to present and field questions from the Board and members of the public.

3. Motion

Motion to approve a payment of up to $42,800 to Luckenbach Ziegelman Gardner in order to develop a conceptual/schematic design for the expansion and renovation of the Youth Services section of the Baldwin Public Library, to be paid out of account 901.0600 (Architectural Services).

1st Tera
2nd Suhay

A roll call vote was taken.

Yea: Pisano, Tera, Suhay, Underdown
Nay: Brice
Abstained: Aidenbaum

The motion was approved 4 to 1.
4. Discussion of fundraising

Tera proposed compiling a list of local donors who have donated $1,000 or more to non-profit organizations and then sending out targeted mailings to these people three times per year. Suhay suggested a three-fold plan for raising funds: annual appeals, grants, and fundraising events. Aidenbaum pointed out that any fundraising efforts should be given high-level direction from the Board—in other words, the reason(s) why are we raising the funds. Suhay suggested creating an ad-hoc fundraising subcommittee after the November election.

Brice acknowledged that Associate Director Rebekah Craft had submitted a grant proposal to the Birmingham Area Cable Board and thanked Trustee Underdown for alerting the Library to the grant possibility.

5. Adjournment

Motion to adjourn the meeting.

1st Underdown
2nd Suhay

Yea: Aidenbaum, Pisano, Tera, Suhay, Underdown, Brice

Nay: None.

Absent and excused: None.

The motion was approved unanimously. The meeting was adjourned at 9:20 p.m.

October Finance Committee Report

The Baldwin Public Library Board’s Finance Committee met on Wednesday, October 11, 2017, at 4:30 p.m. in the Jeanne Lloyd Room. Present were Frank Pisano, Jim Suhay, Bob Tera, Doug Koschik, and Rebekah Craft.

- Baldwin ended its FY 2016-17 budget with a fund balance of $460,986 and a positive variance of $379,085. The final report for FY 2016-17 will be included in the October Board packet.
- Koschik reported that the FY2017-18 budget is tracking well after three months. Large expenses in September included payments to ELM USA for a new disc cleaning machine, Library Design Associates for fixtures and labor not included in the Adult Services Renovation, OCLC for cataloging records and the yearly EZ Proxy subscription, and TLN for quarterly internet access. The City of Birmingham allocations included the first quarter hospitalization adjustment in the amount of $30,323.29.
- Craft reported on September Friends of the Library expenditures. A wish list will be given to the Friends at their November 14 Board meeting.
- Koschik notified the Committee that he had interviewed three firms and received quotes from them to create as-built drawings for the Youth Services wing. He selected Shelter Design to do the work for the amount of $7,500 because it was the firm with the lowest bid which provided the most complete response and plan of action. The ceiling tiles in the early childhood and Youth office areas can be easily removed and replaced. Shelter will do so and report on what is found above. Unfortunately, the ceiling tiles in the main part of the Youth Room are tongue-and-groove tiles that cannot be easily removed and replaced. Consequently, Shelter will leave them as they are. Once the other tiles are removed, however, Shelter will find out how far it can peer horizontally into the space above the tongue-and-groove tiles. The extent of what Shelter is able to observe there can only be determined at that time. Shelter expects to start work during the middle to end of the week of October 16.
- The next meeting of the Finance Committee will take place on Monday, November 13, 2017, at 4:30 p.m.
This report references the Revenue and Expense Report 2017-18, found on the following page. At 25% of the way through fiscal year 2017-2018, the Library has spent 22.6% of its budget and received 75% of its revenue. Strategic Plan Status Report

Comparisons of actual results to projections are made on a quarterly basis—in the months of October, January, April, and July.

Key Metrics Explanation: September 2017

On Target = Met or exceeded goal, or no more than 0.1% below goal
Cautionary = 0.1% to 3% beneath goal
Off Target = More than 3% beneath goal

At the end of the first quarter:

• Financials: Revenues and expenses are tracking as expected.

• Circulation: Circulation has decreased compared to the same period in FY 2016-17. It is, however, higher than the first-quarter goal for FY 2017-18. Self-check usage is off target, primarily because the self-check machines continue to give users an error message whenever they attempt to check out an item with multiple parts (audiobooks, Playaways, 2-disc DVDs, etc.). The software company is aware of this issue and keeps promising to release a system upgrade that will allow checkouts of all these items. In the meantime, this error requires patrons to check out items with a Circulation staff member rather than by using the machine. We had been hoping that at least 90% of our circulation was going to come from residents of our service area. In fact, we ended up ahead of that goal—with 91% of circulation coming from residents.

• Technology Statistics: The Library’s database usage, use of downloadable content, and wireless usage are on target—all by a considerable amount. Public computer usage is down, which is part of an ongoing trend due to increased use of personal devices. Use of Baldwin’s website is also off target. It’s anticipated that the website will soon be replaced with a new one.

• Program Attendance: Program attendance has surpassed first-quarter goals, but is still a bit lower than in FY 2015-16. For the first time, we are listing Idea Lab certifications and Idea Lab visits as part of our statistics.
• Gate Count: Gate count (i.e., the number of people entering the Library) is 4.8% below our target, which is a disappointment. Perhaps it reflects the growing number of people who are checking out electronic resources, rather than physical items.

• Volunteer Hours: Total volunteer hours are off slightly from last year, but still higher than the first-quarter goal.

• Social Media: E-newsletter subscriptions and Facebook likes are both on target. The number of Twitter followers is 1.9% off target.

Services and Programs

Strategic goal: Focus on fresh, dynamic services, and programs that meet Library users’ changing needs.

Website Redesign

Markit is finishing up the initial draft of the new website and will be presenting a preliminary draft of the site to the Library Board at the October 16 meeting for feedback. The new site features:

- Simple and straightforward navigation
- Ease of updating content
- Intuitive structure and design
- Aesthetics cohesive with Baldwin’s updated marketing program
- Ability to highlight and promote new services or upcoming events with prominent blog posts on the home page.
- Departmental pages that reflect the many resources we offer in person. (Our current site only allows us to add limited information to the Youth, Teen and Adult pages)

Idea Lab

The Idea Lab is proving to be popular with patrons. In September, 60 people visited the Lab and Idea Lab staff provided six training sessions on the laser cutter or 3D printer. In October, the Idea Lab staff is continuing to offer one-on-one trainings for interested patrons. In the next several weeks, Lab staff will be conducting small group training sessions for Library staff who are interested in the machines. This cross-training will help staff to better understand the functions of the lab and be able to use machinery as backup. 19 staff members have signed up for or completed this training so far.
Financial Stability

Strategic goal: Develop and implement a solid financial plan that maximizes existing resources and actively pursues cost efficiencies and additional revenue streams.

Books & Bites

We will host a fundraising event in honor of the 90th anniversary of the original building on Friday, November 10, from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. All proceeds from the event will benefit the Youth Services Renovation and Expansion project. A committee is hard at work planning the event and finding sponsors and donors of auction items. More information about sponsorship opportunities can be found at baldwinlib.org/booksandbites.

To date, we have received $11,100 in sponsorships.

The following companies are providing food and beverages for the evening: Griffin Claw Brewery, Caruso World Coffee, The Bird & the Bread, Great Harvest Bread Co., Bistro Joe’s, Toast, 7 Greens, Svenska Café, Whistle Stop Diner, and Whole Foods Market.

We have also received raffle donations from the following businesses: Born Yoga, Masri Clinic, Beyond Juicery + Eatery, Jax Kar Wash, Sundance Shoes, Enchanted Photography, Cranbrook Academy of Art and Art Museum, Glamour Nail Salon, Fleming’s Prime Steakhouse & Wine Bar, Center for Yoga, Tiffany Florist, 6 Salon, Bonobo Winery, Birmingham Village Players, and Wesch Cleaners, Townsend Hotel, Westin Book Cadillac Detroit, Papersource, Dick O’Dows, Motor City Casino, Goldfish Swim, Orange Theory, Tim Horton’s, Kakos, City of Birmingham, Third Man Records, and St. Dunstan’s Theatre Guild, Dean Sellers Ford, Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum, Chapman House, Blue Nectar Spirits Co., Michigan Opera Theatre, Gazelle Sports, and Village Coney.

Our newest auction donors are softersilk.com, Recipes Restaurant, Beverly Hills Grill, Core Revolution Studio, Detroit Symphony Orchestra, The Henry Ford, Goldfish Swim School – Birmingham, and Under the Sea Indoor Playground.

Fundraiser at J. McLaughlin

Birmingham retailer J. McLaughlin is hosting a Sip & Shop to benefit Books & Bites and the Youth Services Expansion and Renovation. The event will be held on October 19 from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m. J. McLaughlin will donate 15% of sales during the event to the Library.
Marketing and Public Relations

Strategic goal: Improve marketing tools to ensure that the community is more aware of what the Baldwin Library has to offer and comes to view the Library as its first choice for accessing the world’s knowledge.

New Releases and Upcoming Events
Paul Gillin, Administrative Assistant, continues to send a list of upcoming events to local media contacts twice per month.

Craft submitted press releases about programs and events to local media outlets. Press releases from the last month included:

- Celebrate Your Freedom to Read during Banned Books Week
- Baldwin Library Hosts Family Story Times at the Birmingham Museum
- Birmingham Museum and Baldwin Library Host Art & Activism Series
- Friends of BPL Fall Used Book Sale
- Treats, Tricks and Spooky Fun at Baldwin Public Library

eNewsletters
Bart Gioia, Computer Trainer, continues to compile and distribute the Library’s four monthly eNewsletters (Adult Events, Teen Events, Youth Events, and Library Board News).

Marketing
Michelle Hollo continues to work with Rebekah Craft designing projects and marketing materials for the Library. Her most recent work can be found in the Information Only section of the October Board Packet. She has completed or is working on the following items:
- 2016-17 book clubs bookmark and brochure
- Winter Learn.Connect.Discover newsletter
- Battle of the Books brochure and bookmark
- Birbery Logo and poster
- Banner to advertise Fall books in the Youth Room
- Idea Lab bookmark, 3D Printer brochure, Laser Cutter brochure
- Potential Youth Services Expansion/Renovation brochure
- Boomer Summit 2017 Additional Resources booklet
- Art & Activism Flier
- 13 posters to advertise youth events on the hallway bulletin boards
Personnel and Organization

Strategic goal: Provide the most effective governing framework, and maintain a flexible, efficiently organized management structure staffed by multi-talented professionals with active support from well-trained volunteers.

Communications with Staff
Staff talks were held on September 20 and 21 as a follow-up to the September Library Board meeting.

Volunteer Hours
102 volunteer hours were utilized in the month of September.

Staff Updates
Gary Eisele reached 8 years of service on October 1.
Sarah Bowman reached 1 year of service on October 1.
Carolyn Wheeler reached 4 years of service on October 4.
Mona Geisler reached 11 years of service on October 23.
Stephanie Klimmek will reach 6 years of service on October 17.
Susan Paley will reach 6 years of service on October 17.
Alice Pepper will reach 6 years of service on October 17.
Jamie Richards will reach 2 years of service on October 19.
Connie Ilmer will reach 23 years of service on October 21.

Collaborative Summer Reading Program
Caroline Salucci was chosen as a committee member for the Collaborative Summer Library Program’s 2019 Summer Reading Children’s Manual. All of her space-themed ideas were due September 15 and if any of her contributions are selected her name and library affiliation will be published in this national manual.

Teen-Centered and Teen-Driven Library Services
In September, Teen Services Librarian Elisabeth Phou attended an all-day workshop presented by the YALSA Institute, which was held at the Canton Public Library, called Teen-Centered and Teen-Driven Library Services. This workshop covered teen development, current trends in library services to teens, and techniques for connecting with teens in the library and community. This workshop gave Elisabeth an updated understanding of teen needs and practices, as well as ideas to increase teen engagement. The workshop was made possible by grant funds from the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), administered by the State of Michigan through the Library of Michigan. Elizabeth Rasberry, who is a Substitute Librarian in both the Adult and Youth Services departments, also attended the workshop.

Special Needs Services Roundtable Meeting
In early October Elisabeth Phou, Teen Services Librarian, attended the October SNSR (Special Needs Services Roundtable) meeting at the Bloomfield Township Public Library, which included a discussion amongst Michigan librarians who attended and two informative presentations focused on autism. The first speaker was Sean Ahlquist, an architecture professor at the University of Michigan and the father of a daughter with autism. He creates amazing sensory playscapes and wall installations designed for youth with autism. He spoke about his research on interactive sensory-friendly tactile interfaces and environments, which are currently at some children’s museums and maybe someday libraries. The second speaker was Ron Sandison, author of A Parent’s Guide to Autism. He was diagnosed with autism as a child in the 1980s. He told his inspiring story and spoke about inclusion of people (of all ages) with autism.

Community Presentations of “Protecting Your Privacy Online”
Josh Rouan, Baldwin’s Electronic Resources Librarian, was recently invited to speak to the Birmingham Optimist Club at their breakfast meeting on Wednesday, October 4 on the topic of “Protecting Your Privacy Online.” Rouan covered such topics as limiting the amount of personal information you share with websites; maintaining a fake online identity; good password hygiene; best practices for using public wifi; and the importance of keeping software and firmware up to date with the latest security patches. Twenty members of the group attended his talk. Birmingham Next also invited Rouan to speak to them on the same topic on Thursday, October 5. He gave the 35 attendees to that session an extended version of his presentation.

Community Relationships and Partnerships

Strategic goal: Strengthen relationships with stakeholders and expand partnership opportunities with community organizations for everyone’s mutual benefit.

Doug Koschik, Ingrid Tighe of the Birmingham Shopping District, and Joe Bauman of the Chamber of Commerce met on September 21 to discuss how their organizations can support each other to strengthen the downtown area.

City of Birmingham

Koschik has attended weekly City of Birmingham staff meetings. Craft submitted content to the City of Birmingham for inclusion in its monthly Around Town email newsletter.

A downtown Birmingham parking utilization report from the month of August can be found on page 98 in the Information Only section.

The Library will be participating in the fall session of the Birmingham Citizens’ Academy. Members of the Academy will tour the Library and learn more about its history and governance on Thursday, November 9 at 6:00 p.m.
City of Bloomfield Hills
Doug Koschik, Rebekah Craft, Syntha Green, and Frank Pisano attended the Bloomfield Hills Open House on September 17. Library representatives talked about services and programming opportunities to attendees at the event and signed up one resident for a new Library card. Children who attended the event selected a book to take home.

Beverly Hills
Craft submitted information to the Village of Beverly Hills for inclusion in its weekly email newsletter. The Library will be participating in the Halloween Hoot on Sunday, October 29 at Beverly Park.

Bingham Farms
Craft submitted information to the Village of Bingham Farms for inclusion in its quarterly newsletter.

Birmingham Next
Rebekah Craft continues to host the Popular Reads book club at Next. Bart Gioia, Technology Trainer, will be teaching one computer class per month at Next. Koschik attended a Boomer Summit planning meeting at Next on October 27. The 2017 Boomer Summit will be held on Saturday morning, October 14.
Birmingham All Seasons
Maria Williams, Head of Adult Services, is facilitating a monthly book club at All Seasons, the independent senior living facility in Birmingham.

Birmingham Rotary Club
Koschik has continued to attend Birmingham Rotary Club meetings.

Birmingham Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce
On October 4, Koschik attended the 14th annual Vine & Dine event put on by the Birmingham Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce.

On September 28, Baldwin hosted the Chamber of Commerce's “Member Coffee.” 45 people attended. Koschik spoke about services that Baldwin supplies to businesses and Library staff gave tours of the Adult Services Renovation and Idea Lab. Below are three photos of the event.
Birmingham Bloomfield Cultural Arts Awards
Doug Koschik and David Underdown attended the Birmingham Bloomfield Cultural Arts Awards presentation on Friday, October 6, at the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Center.
Birmingham Youth Assistance

Once again in September, Adult Services Librarian Vicki Sower attended the meeting of Birmingham Youth Assistance as a representative from the Library. Vicki regularly attends the BYA meetings and volunteers her time to assist with their various events and projects each year. The mission of Birmingham Youth Assistance is to strengthen youth and families and to reduce the incidence of delinquency, abuse and neglect through community involvement. BYA is a partnership of the Oakland County Circuit Court—Family Division; the City of Birmingham; the Villages of Beverly Hills, Bingham Farms and Franklin; the Birmingham Public Schools; and community volunteers.

Facilities and Technology

Strategic goal: Adapt the existing facility for more flexible use and employ technology more effectively in order to improve internal operating efficiency and better serve Library patrons.

Book Drop

From October 2 through 9, the Library’s book drop was removed from Bates Street for repairs. Library Design Associates transported the book drop to and from B and B Collision in Royal Oak. The book drop was hit and damaged on two different occasions in August.
Low Voltage Wiring
On September 27 and 28, contractors with Netech and All Covered updated ethernet wiring and installing new jacks in various locations in the Claudia Ireland Room and behind the Circulation Desk.

Sidewalk paving
Several sections of sidewalk around the Library’s front entrance were paved on September 28 and 29.

Sculpture Repair and Cleaning
The spiral sculpture on the southwest lawn of the Library grounds was removed for repairs and cleaning on September 22. The Hill Gallery will be repairing the sculpture for approximately one month.

Bed Bug Inspection
A quarterly bed bug inspection was held on October 12. No bed bugs were detected in the building. The next inspection will be held in January.

Painting in the Rotary and Donor Rooms
Library maintenance staff painted the Rotary and Donor rooms and kitchen during the week of October 9. The color of the walls is the same paint used on the staircase walls behind the Glen Michaels sculpture. Janelle Boyce provided color consultation services for the project. Maintenance staff will begin painting the lower level hallway the week of October 16.
In September the Library welcomed Carrie Gilchrist, PhD, the Senior Financial Aid Outreach Advisor at Oakland University, who delivered a talk entitled “College Funding 101.”

Carrie’s talk was not exclusively about Oakland University, but rather highlighted all the various ways that students and their parents can seek aid for paying college tuition. There were many questions from the attendees and Carrie was very generous with her time. Thank you, Carrie!

Also in September, Adult Services Librarian Sarah Bowman led a workshop on making fall-themed wreaths with handmade felt flowers. Below are some of the creations made by the workshop’s attendees.

Thank you to the Friends of the Baldwin Public Library for their generous sponsorship of our programs.
Kindness Rocks
Students in grades 4 to 6 helped to decorate rocks with encouraging messages and images as part of the nation wide Kindness Rocks Project. Rocks are placed outside and in areas where people are likely to see them and be inspired to spread kindness. Thank you to the Friends of the Baldwin Public Library for sponsoring this event!
Wednesday Evening Bedtime Tales

Each month, Cathy Gimby hosts an evening story time for families. Children are encouraged to wear their pajamas and enjoy stories, activities, and a craft. September’s theme was pirates.

Read in the Park

In partnership with the Beverly Hills Parks and Recreation Board, we held the first annual Read in the Park event in Beverly Park. Wong Herbert Yee, Geisel Honor Winner and author of the Mouse & Mole books and Fireman Small read his book and gave a short presentation on his writing process. Book Beat was on hand to sign books and afterwards, families could walk the Story Book Trail in Beverly Park which featured Fireman Small for the month of September.

Services for Businesses
for the Birmingham Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce

In addition to BPL’s professional reference librarians and our curated Business & Finance collection with close to two thousand titles on leadership, economics, investing, and wealth management, employees in our service communities also have access to the following resources.

Library Card

Your library card is your gateway to our physical collection and a wealth of digital resources: market research tools, online classes and tutorials, popular streaming content and more. Anyone who lives, works or owns property in our service area is eligible for a library card.

Meeting Rooms

Baldwin has numerous meeting rooms available to rent for groups of all sizes. We also have three new group collaboration rooms with large monitors perfect for one on one client meetings and conference calls, available to Baldwin cardholders on a first come, first served basis.

Printing, Faxing and Scanning

Baldwin offers competitively priced printing and faxing, including the ability to send print jobs to the library remotely from your home, office, or anywhere with an internet connection. You can even print directly from your smartphone using the PrinterOn app. We also offer free scanning services.

Lynda.com Access

Your Baldwin library card comes with free access to Lynda.com, a premiere online learning platform with thousands of expert-led video courses and tutorials on a range of subjects. Whether you want to master Excel, learn a programming language, or hone your marketing skills, Lynda.com will have what you need to advance your career or business.

Reference USA

Reference USA is a robust database with up-to-date and verified information on businesses and residents in the United States. It is the perfect tool to use for market research and sales leads, and is available to use both on site and remotely with a Baldwin library card.

Digital Library

Our digital library is perfect for those who don’t want to leave the comfort of the office. Our OverDrive platform has tens of thousands of ebooks and eaudiobooks to choose from. You can now stream music, movies and television shows on your smartphone, tablet, or TV with Hoopla Digital. See our website for more information on all our digital offerings.
Based on feedback from Library patrons, staff, and community members, the Baldwin Public Library has developed a long-term vision of the Library building. The building should be a well-designed, forward-looking, technologically advanced, and visually exciting space in which to carry out innovative library services in the 21st century. (The full text of the vision statement approved by the Baldwin Public Library Board of Trustees can be found at: http://baldwinlib.org/library-building.)

THE VISION INCLUDES THE FOLLOWING PHASES DURING THE 2016-2024 PERIOD:

PHASE 1
Adult Services Renovation
(completed in May 2017)

PHASE 2
Youth Room Expansion and Renovation
(proposed completion date of 2020)

PHASE 3
Circulation, Lobby and Public Entrance Renovation
(proposed completion date of 2023/2024)
GOALS OF YOUTH ROOM EXPANSION & RENOVATION (PHASE 2)

ENHANCE Baldwin’s ability to serve the children of our community by providing developmentally appropriate learning spaces for children from birth to sixth grade.

SATISFY needs and requests shared by parents, caregivers, children, and staff that have been collected through a variety of forums.

INCREASE value that the Library delivers to residents, businesses and visitors of all ages.

ENSURE Birmingham remains competitive against other communities who have invested heavily in their communities.

STRENGTHEN Birmingham’s civic center by providing an exterior that complements the existing building, Shain Park, and the city campus.

OBJECTIVES OF YOUTH ROOM EXPANSION & RENOVATION (PHASE 2)

EXPAND Youth Room by approximately 2,000 square feet.

IMPROVE efficiency of building.

UPDATE infrastructure, including lighting, wiring, and acoustics.

ENSURE handicap accessibility.

IMPROVE wayfinding with effective and child-friendly signage.

INCREASE size of story room, early childhood play area, quiet study and collaboration spaces, staff work room, and storage closets.

RENOVATE and modernize public restrooms.

UPDATE paint, furniture, and carpeting.

HIGHLIGHT original 1927 building when possible.

PROCESS

Library Staff and Board members have begun the initial planning stages of the Youth Room expansion and renovation. In August 2017, the Library issued an RFP for conceptual/schematic designs for a renovation and expansion of the Youth Services area. The Library plans to bring completed designs to the City Commission’s long-range planning session in January 2018 and will request that the City begin pre-funding this project. Ideally, the project will begin in fall 2019. Based on previous architectural input, Library believes that the Project can be delivered for a price not to exceed $2.1 million.
Art & Activism

The Tradition of Questioning Authority

This lecture series will explore the long tradition in the arts of questioning authority and making us think. Whether in the theater, in music, or in the visual arts, encouraging new perspectives has a long history in the western world.

October 12, 2017
Art & Activism: The Theater
7:00-8:30 p.m.

Jay Kaplan will discuss how the stage has been a natural place to question authority and make political commentary, from the ancient Greeks to Shakespeare to Europe under repressive regimes to modern day. Kaplan is a respected actor/director in the Detroit area who has been associated with the Village Players for years. As an attorney for the A.C.L.U., he also has one foot firmly planted in local activism.

November 9, 2017
Art & Activism: Music
7:00-8:30 p.m.

Susan Whitall will present some of the major ways that music, especially American music, has actively contributed to the tradition of political expression and social issues. Whitall is an author, long time music critic for the Detroit News, and former writer/editor for Birmingham’s CREEM Magazine.

December 14, 2017
Art & Activism: The Visual Arts
7:00-8:30 p.m.

Birmingham artist and filmmaker Victor Pytko will discuss how the visual arts can broaden a viewer’s understanding by presenting a different perspective, suggesting another reality or stimulating a new perception. The premise that “art must offend to advance” will be considered in the context of Victor’s work on display at the Birmingham Museum through December 31, 2017.
LIBRARIANS facilitate the discussion, supply questions, and encourage participants to share a wide range of thoughts and opinions in a respectful manner. The clubs are always open to new members and no prior sign up is required.

JOIN US ANY TIME AND COME MEET YOUR NEW FAVORITE BOOK!

BOOK SELECTIONS are shared by the clubs and are chosen annually by the Adult Services Librarians, with input from other Library staff members and book club participants. The reading selections focus on modern fiction, with a few classic and popular nonfiction titles as well. Most books are around 300 pages long, and are usually available as audiobooks, in large print, and as ebooks.

MULTIPLE COPIES OF EACH BOOK ARE GENEROUSLY PROVIDED BY THE FRIENDS OF THE BALDWIN PUBLIC LIBRARY.

THE LIBRARY HOSTS THREE MONTHLY BOOK CLUBS FOR ADULTS

ADULT SERVICES
HOW DOES MY TEAM REGISTER?

Registration begins on Friday, November 3rd 2017. Each team only submits one registration form found on the Library’s website at www.baldwinlib.org/battle. No paper registrations will be accepted. The last day for registration and team changes is Wednesday, January 10th. Each team must have an adult coach.

WHO CAN BE A COACH AND WHAT ARE THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES?

The coach may be a parent or other interested adult who will serve as the contact person between the team and the Baldwin Public Library. Coaches will help the teams stay on track and come up with strategies for Battle preparation.

All coaches must attend one Coaches Meeting at the Baldwin Public Library on Monday, December 4th or Thursday, December 7th at 7:00 p.m. Coaches are responsible for arranging transportation for their team to and from Seaholm High School on the day of Battle.

WHAT IF I CANNOT FIND A TEAM?

Students who have not found a team by Wednesday, December 27th can fill out the appropriate form on the Library’s website. Library staff will do their best to help students find a team but cannot guarantee team placement.

WHEN IS THE BATTLE?

BOOK TITLES WILL BE ANNOUNCED AND AVAILABLE FOR CHECK OUT ON FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3RD 2017.

THE BATTLE WILL TAKE PLACE AT SEAHOLM HIGH SCHOOL ON SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10TH 2018.

TEAMS MUST BE AT SEAHOLM BY 9:15 A.M. AND THE BATTLE WILL COMMENCE AT 10 A.M.

IMPORTANT DATES!

COACHES MEETING: MONDAY, DECEMBER 4TH OR THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7TH.

LAST DAY FOR REGISTRATION: WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10TH 2018.

IF YOU HAVE FURTHER QUESTIONS, PLEASE CONTACT THE YOUTH SERVICES DEPARTMENT:
248-554-4670
youth.reference@baldwinlib.org
Who May Participate?
All fourth and fifth graders who attend a Birmingham Public School are eligible to participate. Each team must have 4 to 6 students and one adult team coach. It is not necessary for team members to attend the same school or be in the same grade. Students are responsible for forming their own teams.

What is Battle of the Books?
It is a program designed to foster a love of reading and encourage students to read books outside their comfort zone. Fourth and fifth graders form teams with an adult coach, read the Battle books, and compete against other teams by answering questions based on the selected titles. Battle books will be announced and available for check out on Friday, November 3rd 2017.

Battle Rules!

Team Members sit together on the gym floor. You may bring a small blanket to sit on. All other items, including food, drinks, coats, books, notes, and other personal items must be left with families in the stands. Pencils and answer sheets will be provided. Spirit wear is encouraged!

Coaches will check in their team, find their seats, and check that the team has everything they need. Coaches will then head to the stands where they can cheer their team. Coaches do not sit with their teams during the Battle.

The Moderator will read the question twice and students will have 20 seconds to write down the answer and the first and last name of the author of the book. Each answer sheet has the team number and question number. Make sure you are using the correct answer sheet.

When Time is called, all pencils must be put down. A runner will collect the answers from each team and give them to the judges who will score each answer. The judges’ decision is final.

Scoring - Total of 5 Possible Points
• 4 Points - Correct Answer
• 1 Point - Correct First and Last Name of the Author
• No Points - For Partially Correct Answers. If the First or Last Name of the Author is Missing or Incorrect, No Point Will Be Awarded.

Once all the answers have been collected, the moderator will read the correct answer out loud and move on to the next question.

If, for any reason, an audience member is seen communicating with a team member or announces the answer before the 20 second answering period is done, the question will be discarded and a new question will be asked. A team risks disqualification if they are found communicating with an audience member.

First, second, and third place winners will receive a prize!

Go Team!

3D PRINTERS are an increasingly popular tool for inventors, artists, and curious minds of all kinds.

At THE IDEA LAB, we are proud to offer a CUBEPRO DUO 3D PRINTER with a 9.5”w X 9”h X 10.5”d printing area to our community of makers!

HERE ARE SOME WEBSITES WHICH MAY PROVIDE INFORMATION AND INSPIRATION

INSTRUCTABLES.COM
The world’s foremost collection of user-submitted DIY project ideas and instructions.

THINGIVERSE.COM
A large database of free downloadable project files for 3D printers and laser cutters, designed specifically to quickly download and produce.

MAKEZINE.COM
Homebase for “Make:” an organization providing professionally-curated ideas for DIY projects, and printed magazines about the same.

REDDIT.COM/R/3DPRINTING/
A popular forum on 3D printing with a very active user base, rife with knowledge.

SKETCHUP.COM
The place to download SketchUp, a free application for creating 3D files.

MYMINIFACTORY.COM
Another large database of 3D files, catered more toward architectural and graphic designers.
3D Printers are machines that work in conjunction with a computer, to produce solid objects made of durable plastic.

WHAT IS A 3D PRINTER?

3D Printers are actually quite simple! First, a 3D design is sent to the 3D printer from a computer. Spools of thin plastic filament are loaded into the 3D printer, which then heats and extrudes the plastic onto a surface. The computer controls the speed and shape of the extrusion patterns, repeatedly adding layers of material in order to build up the shape of your designed object. This process results in robust, functional objects created right before your eyes! If you’d like to know more about how 3D printers work, visit 3dhubs.com/what-is-3d-printing

A PRINTER THAT PRINTS SOLID OBJECTS?

THAT SOUNDS ABSURD! HOW COULD IT POSSIBLY WORK!?

In short, you can make ANY KIND OF THING. Thanks to the extreme precision of the 3D printer, almost any object can be successfully printed. Even designs with moving or interlocking parts can be produced, and in many cases appear PRE-ASSEMBLED and ready to use.

WHAT CAN I MAKE?

- ART, SCULPTURE AND DECOR
- REPLACEMENT PARTS, SPECIALTY TOOLS
- ORIGINAL DESIGNS, INVENTIONS
- TOYS, GAMES, GIFTS
- A NEW SHELL FOR YOUR HERMIT CRAB
- BASICALLY ANYTHING

THAT IS ACTUALLY SUPER NEAT!

HERE ARE SOME COMMON USES FOR THE 3D PRINTER:

- Art, sculpture and decor
- Replacement parts, specialty tools
- Original designs, inventions
- Toys, games, gifts
- A new shell for your hermit crab
- Basically anything

WHAT SHOULD I MAKE?

That’s a good question, and the answer is: IT’S UP TO YOU! We provide a number of resources to help you concoct ideas and create THINGS. Our lab computers include an array of helpful design software for creating your own designs, and our Idea Lab Technicians can help you with planning, execution, and inspiration. Remember, you don’t need any special skills or training. We encourage patrons to try new things, experiment and explore. Don’t worry if you’re not sure what to make, or how to make it: we will figure it out together!

HOW WILL IDEA LAB HELP ME TO USE THIS AMAZING 3D PRINTER?

Our brilliant Idea Lab Technicians are here to provide assistance and guidance in all steps of the creative process. Any experience level is welcome, even if you haven’t any experience at all! COME TO US WITH YOUR IDEAS, AND WE CAN HELP YOU MAKE THEM INTO ACTUAL, GENUINE OBJECTS!

INFORMATION ON HOW TO ACCESS THE LAB CAN BE FOUND AT BALDWINLIB.ORG/IDEALAB

Be sure to check our website frequently! As our lab continues to grow and develop, so will the information there.

OUR LAB COMPUTERS CONTAIN THE FOLLOWING HELPFUL DESIGN SOFTWARE

- Adobe Creative Cloud
  - Photoshop
  - Illustrator
  - Premiere Pro
  - Etc.
- Tinkercad
- SketchUp
- Blender

SO, WHAT EXACTLY ARE THESE 3D PRINTED OBJECTS MADE OF?

The printer uses a variety of thermoplastics to create your objects. These are plastics that become fluid when heated, and solidify again upon cooling. The most common is PLA, a biodegradable plastic made from corn starch. It is durable, lightweight, and non-conductive. PLA comes in a variety of colors, and our CubePro Duo Printer can use up to two different colors at once. After printing, objects made from PLA can sanded, coated, and sealed in a variety of ways to achieve whatever finished appearance you desire.

THIS IS OVERWHELMINGLY COOL. (I KNOW, RIGHT?)

WOW! IT REALLY SEEMS LIKE THERE ARE NO LIMITS!

THERE ARE INDEED ALMOST NO LIMITS! Objects can’t be larger than 9.5” Wide x 9” High x 10.5” Deep. No weapons or illegal items may be printed. But beyond that, THE ONLY REMAINING LIMIT IS YOUR IMAGINATION!
LASER CUTTERS are incredibly versatile tools, and can be used in an astonishing array of projects. At THE IDEA LAB, we are excited to offer a FULL SPECTRUM H-SERIES LASER CUTTER with a 20" X 12" inch cutting area to our community of makers!

WHAT IS A LASER CUTTER?
A laser cutter is a computer-controlled machine which uses a powerful beam of laser light to make rapid, precise cuts in non-metallic materials.

SURE, OK. THAT'S FINE. BUT . . .
WHAT IS A LASER BEAM?
Laser stands for LIGHT AMPLIFICATION by STIMULATED EMISSION of RADIATION, and is a SPECIAL KIND OF HIGHLY-FOCUSED LIGHT. Unlike the light produced by a bulb or candle, laser light is coherent and does not spread or disperse. This, combined with a series of focusing lenses, concentrates the light’s energy into a very small point (about 0.30mm), the heat upon which is sufficient to cut (or more appropriately, burn) through many materials. If you would like to know more about how laser beams are emitted, visit spaceplace.nasa.gov/laser

AH, I SEE. IT’S ALL BEGINNING TO MAKE SENSE TO ME NOW.
WHAT CAN I DO WITH THIS MACHINE?
ANY PATTERN OR SHAPE, no matter how intricate and complex, can be cut or etched. This provides truly endless potential for creativity.

HERE ARE SOME COMMON USES FOR THE LASER CUTTER:
CREATE LABELS AND SIGNAGE
PERSONALIZE YOUR BELONGINGS WITH CUSTOM ARTWORK
PRODUCE STENCILS AND STAMPS FOR PAINTING, QUILTING, OR OTHER CRAFTS
DESIGN 3D OBJECTS WHICH CAN BE ASSEMBLED FROM LASER-CUT PARTS
BASICALLY ANYTHING

THE LIMITATIONS EXIST ONLY IN YOUR IMAGINATION!
And also in the types of material that can be used.

SAY, THAT RAISES A GOOD QUESTION. WHAT . . .
TYPES OF MATERIALS CAN BE USED?
Many substances are safe for use with the laser. If you are unsure whether your material can be used, one of our Idea Lab technicians can help you to correctly identify it and determine its compatibility.

MATERIALS FOR LASER CUTTING
HERE ARE SOME MATERIALS THAT CAN BE CUT AND ETCHED BY THE LASER:
WOOD (HARDWOOD, PLYWOOD, MDF AND OTHER COMPOSITE/ENGINEERED WOODS)
CERTAIN PLASTICS (ACRYLIC, LUCITE, PLEXIGLASS, ETC)
CERTAIN TYPES OF CLOTH (SUCH AS FELT, HEMP AND COTTON) PAPER
CORK
MATERIALS FOR LASER ETCHING
GLASS
CERAMIC
STONES/MINERALS

WOW, THAT’S A LOT OF DIFFERENT KINDS OF MATERIAL!
Yes, it really is.

WHAT SHOULD I MAKE?

Fundraiser celebrates 90 years of Baldwin Public Library

By Tiffany Esshaki

September 18, 2017

BIRMINGHAM — As far as female trailblazers go, the city of Birmingham has one of the best.

Back when Birmingham was still a village, Martha Baldwin was a force to be reckoned with. She founded the public library, became a public servant in a male-dominated realm, and created a Village Improvement Society that advocated for the installation and beautification of sidewalks, which included a ban on spitting chewing tobacco in public — a ban she personally enforced.

Oh, and she refused to wear a corset too.

“(Baldwin Public Library) is named for Martha Baldwin, the indomitable 19th-century woman who founded the library, developed a beautification program and was the bane of the all-male Village Council before women could vote, among other things,” said Leslie Pielack, director of The Birmingham Museum. “She had great influence and a firm sense of what Birmingham should be.”

On Nov. 10, the library that bears her name will celebrate its 90th anniversary during its annual Books and Bites fundraiser. The speakeasy-themed event will feature live jazz performances, a photo booth, game tables, an auction, food and drinks, and plenty of old-time debauchery in an effort to raise much-needed funds to support library programming.
The theme is an appropriate homage to the library’s start, opening 90 years ago after a bond was passed in 1926 to create the public resource.

“We are very proud of the 1927 library building and are pleased to be celebrating its 90th anniversary this year,” said BPL Director Doug Koschik, who explained that the history of the Tudor-style building was so significant to residents that designers carefully preserved much of the structure during the recently completed renovation of the adult services section.

“One important feature of the adult services renovation was to spotlight the exterior of the original building. It’s succeeded in making people more aware of the history of the building,” he said.

In the past, the Books and Bites event has benefited the youth early learning corner, the teen space, outreach services and, most recently, the creation of the library’s makerspace, called the Idea Lab. This year, money raised will go to expanding and renovating the youth room.

Big Rock Chophouse, Griffin Claw Brewing Co., The Bird & the Bread, Bistro Joe’s, Great Harvest Bread Co., 7 Greens, Svenska Café, Toast, Whistle Stop Diner and Whole Foods Market have all signed on to make the fundraiser the tastiest yet.

The Books and Bites event will be held 6-9 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10, at the library, located at 300 W. Merrill St. in downtown Birmingham.

Tickets cost $75 for “shakers,” ages 64 and under; $65 for “boomers,” over the age of 65; and they’re free for guests 90 and older. For more information or to purchase tickets, visit BaldwinLib.org/BooksandBites or call (248) 544-4683.

Baldwin Library to host Banned Books Week

The Baldwin Public Library is uniting with the American Library Association to celebrate the freedom to read Sept. 24-30 during Banned Books Week, with a variety of events and activities.

View two films that address the impact of censorship on individuals and society during Baldwin’s First Amendment Film Festival. “Cinema Paradiso” is showing at 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 24, and “Good Night, and Good Luck” is showing at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 26.

“The problem of censorship is less prevalent in modern society than it used to be, but materials — books, music and movies — are still challenged in public libraries all over the country every year. The movies we’ve selected to show during Banned Books Week this year highlight the importance of resisting censorship and promoting the free exchange of ideas,” said Maria Williams, head of adult services.

Teen Services librarian Elisabeth Phou is encouraging teens to tell a librarian about a banned or challenged book they have read and will reward each participant with candy for sharing their experience. “Teen books are frequently challenged and banned in schools and public libraries, and I think it’s important for teens to know this,” Phou said. “They might not even realize that they’ve read one. I want teens to be aware that librarians will fight for their right to read.”

Celebrate your freedom to read by taking a photo of your favorite banned or challenged book and sharing it on Instagram with the hashtag #BPLbannedbooksweek. Tag the library @baldwinlib and you’ll be entered to win an “I Read Banned Books” tote bag.

Baldwin Public Library is located at 300 W. Merrill Street. For more information, go to www.baldwinlib.org.

Celebrate Baldwin Library’s 90th anniversary at fundraiser

To celebrate the 90th anniversary of the Baldwin Public Library, it is throwing a speakeasy-themed Books & Bites fundraiser 6-9 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10. All proceeds from the event will help fund an expansion and renovation of the Youth Room.

Bid on auction items, listen to live jazz music, strike a pose in the photo booth and try your hand at one of the game tables. Sip and get stuffed with food, drinks and desserts from Big Rock Chophouse, Griffin Claw Brewing Co., The Bird & the Bread, Bistro Joe’s, Great Harvest Bread Co., 7 Greens, Svenska Café, Toast, Whistle Stop Diner and Whole Foods Market.

Tickets are $75 for ages 64 and under, $65 for ages 65-89 and free for ages 90 and over. Tickets can be purchased at www.baldwinlib.org/booksandbites or by calling 248-554-4683. Auction donations are welcome and sponsorship opportunities are also available.

“We have been working hard behind the scenes and are excited to host another big night for Birmingham. It’s wonderful to be able to open up the library for a fun and entertaining evening,” said Doug Köschik, Library director.

In past years, Books & Bites has benefited the Library’s Idea Lab (2015), Outreach Services (2013), a Teen Space (2012) and a Youth Early Learning Corner (2011).

The Baldwin Public Library is located at 300 W. Merrill Street. For more information, go to www.baldwinlib.org.
Name needed for new Little Free Library

BIRMINGHAM — The city’s second Little Free Library debuted in Booth Park earlier this summer. Now, Birmingham residents and students in the Birmingham School District are invited to enter a contest to name the library, which is shaped like a pig.

Booth Park’s Little Free Library is a “take a book, leave a book” free book exchange. Last summer, the Friends of the Baldwin Public Library group donated more than 20 books for children of all ages to kick off the second program.

Download the contest rules and entry form at www.bhamgov.org/booth. All entries must be received by Nov. 17. Three finalists and the contest winner will be selected by the Birmingham Parks and Recreation Board. The new name and contest winner will be announced at the Tuesday, Dec. 5, Parks and Recreation Board meeting. The chosen name will be placed on a plaque that will be installed on the Little Free Library.

For more information, call the Department of Public Services at (248) 530-1700 or visit www.bhamgov.org/booth.

BIRMINGHAM, MI — Little Free Libraries have been popping up around metropolitan Detroit for a few years and Birmingham recently caught the wave by posting its second in Booth Park. But this isn’t your normal, everyday Little Free Library.

Shaped like a cute little pig, the city is currently conducting a naming contest for the library. Students from the Birmingham School District and residents are invited to come up with the best moniker for library, which works on the “take a book, leave a book” credo.
Last summer, the Friends of the Baldwin Public Library group donated more than 20 children’s books to get the library started. Since then, it has been a popular attraction at the park, according to city officials.

Little Free Libraries are book exchanges that have been established all over the United States and many foreign countries. The idea came from a Wisconsin man who built a model of a schoolhouse, filled it with books and placed it in his front yard to honor his mother, who was a teacher. His neighbors and friends loved it, so he built several more and gave them away.
Museum, library sponsor lecture series on art and activism

A three-part joint lecture series sponsored by the Birmingham Museum and the Baldwin Public Library will focus on the theme of art and activism.

The first lecture in the series, at 7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12, at the library, titled, “Art and Activism: The Theater,” will feature Jay Kaplan of the ACLU, who will explore how the stage has been a natural place to question authority and make political commentary from as far back as the ancient Greeks.

Author-music critic Susan Whitall will discuss “Art and Activism: Music” at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 9, at the library, while Birmingham artist Victor Pytko will present his current art exhibition at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14, at the museum through the perspective of activism in “Arts and Activism: the Visual Arts.”

For more information, call the museum at 248-530-1928 or go to www.bhamgov.org/museum.

BIRMINGHAM, MI – A three-part joint lecture series sponsored by the Birmingham Museum and the Baldwin Public Library this fall will focus on the theme of art and activism. The first lecture in the series entitled, “Art and Activism: The Theater” (October 12, 7 p.m. at the Baldwin Library) will feature Jay Kaplan of the ACLU, who will explore how the stage has been a natural place to question authority and make political commentary from as far back as the ancient Greeks.

Kaplan’s presentation on Art and Activism is the first in a three-part series on this timely theme that will take a closer look at the tradition of the arts challenging the status quo and making us think. Three art forms will be featured: theater, music, and the visual arts. All presentations are free to the public and will take place at the Baldwin Public Library in October and November, then at the Birmingham Museum in December.

Kaplan has been the staff attorney for the ACLU of Michigan’s LGBT Project since it began operations in 2001. Prior to that he was an attorney with Michigan Protection and Advocacy Service, where he initiated an HIV/AIDS legal advocacy program. Outside of work he is involved with both Village Players and Stagecrafters community theatres. He has directed numerous productions including “Side Show,” “Casa Valentina,” “A Catered Affair,” “Seascape,” and “A Man of No Importance.” He will be directing “Act One” at Village Players in March 2018.

On November 9, author-music critic Susan Whitall will discuss “Art and Activism: Music,” (7 p.m. at the Baldwin Library) and on December 14, Birmingham artist Victor Pytko will present his current art exhibition at 7 p.m. at the Birmingham Museum through the perspective of activism in “Arts and Activism: the Visual Arts”. To find out more, call the Birmingham Museum at 248-530-1928 or visit us online at www.bhamgov.org/museum.
The Birmingham Museum is located at 556 West Maple. Exhibit hours are Wednesday through Saturday from 1:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m., and until 8:00 p.m. on the second Thursday of the month. Two hours of free parking is available at the Chester Street Parking Deck; credit card required for entry and exit. For more information, call 248-530-1928 or visit www.bhamgov.org/museum. Museum admission is $7 for adults; $5 for students and seniors. Kids 5 and under and Friends of the Birmingham Museum members are free.
Story Times at Birmingham Museum

Every month, the Birmingham Museum opens its 1822 Hunter House to host an evening family story time along with the Baldwin Public Library. Upcoming family story times include “Nocturnal Animals” at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12, and “Teddy Bears” at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 9. Baldwin youth librarian Maeve Devlin reads books, sings songs, repeats rhymes and finger plays and leads movement activities.

The Birmingham Museum is located at 556 W. Maple. For more information, call 248-530-4928 or go to www.bhamgov.org/museum. Museum admission is $7 for adults; $5 for students and seniors. Kids 5 and under and Friends of the Birmingham Museum members are free.

Books for Adults

Camino Island by John Grisham
Mercer Mann is a broke writer with $60k of student loan debt weighing heavy on her shoulders. Elaine shows up with an offer to make her money problems disappear. All she has to do is return to Camino Island, face the loss of her beloved grandmother she has been avoiding for years, work on her overdue second novel, and seduce a charismatic independent bookstore owner who dabbles in stolen rare books.--recommended by Maria

Do Not Become Alarmed by Maile Meloy
Two families board a cruise ship. During their first off-ship excursion, their children disappear. I could not put this book down! --recommended by Liz

Kissing the Witch: Old Stories in New Skins by Emma Donoghue
This is really gentle and subtle and beautiful chain of stories told to, about, and by women in situations that have elements of popular fairy tales.--recommended by Mary

A Separation by Katie Kitamura
I was thoroughly impressed by this novel, narrated by a somewhat remote, not terribly sympathetic woman who has gone to Greece to search for her missing and estranged husband. Somehow, the novel manages to be very funny, very wise, and very compelling.--recommended by Elizabeth

Yves Saint Laurent by Florence Chenoane and Farid Mueller
An enormous retrospective of Yves Saint Laurent’s design work with photos and commentary by the designer and others who worked for and with him. The book looks into the evolution of modern fashion beginning in Paris in the late 1950s and continuing through the 1970s and 1980s by an incredibly iconie and brilliant creator of haute couture.--recom-mended by Susan

Books for Youth and Teens

Beyond the Bright Sea by Lauren Wolk
This book is a blend of mystery and adventure, finding hidden treasure and discovering who you are and where you belong. A girl named Crow floated in on a boat as a baby and may or may not be from a leper colony, but she is determined to discover her roots all while saving a family treasure from a thief.--recommended by Angie

When Dimple Met Rishi by Sandhya Menon
Set in San Francisco at a conference for teen coders and artists, this story of teenagers who met because their parents arranged their marriage years ago in India is funny, serious, and sweet all in one. --recom-mended by Susan
End of Summer Reading Party for Teens at the Library

On August 10th, the Baldwin Public Library hosted an amazing program for teens in 6th to 12th grade to celebrate a summer of reading. The End-of-Summer Reading Party for Teens featured all sorts of activities including life-size Jenga, life-size Connect Four, coloring books, “make your own ice cream sandwich” bar, and video games. About thirty kids from the Birmingham community came out to socialize and make new friends with others who enjoy reading as well.

Ms. Elisabeth Phou planned and set up the event in order to encourage kids to continue reading and to honor the teens who logged more than twenty hours of reading this summer. She brought in games from other libraries and purchased the ice cream and prizes in order to make the event possible. This event is a yearly affair and this year’s theme was “build a better world.” The activities put out were all aimed to connect with the theme and to entertain all ages who would attend. Teen volunteers helped with the setup of this event and other similar ones as well. The summer volunteer program is a huge asset for not only the librarians but the students as well. It is community service that allows for the teens to positively interact with others and to help their community flourish by helping with planning and setup of these events.

The games were most definitely the highlight of the entire event. The Super Smash Bros video game was a big hit for all the kids because kids competed to show off their gaming skills and win. The “make your own ice cream sandwich” bar was also a focal point of the event where kids would layer cookies, ice cream, and toppings to make masterpieces the size of a dinner plate. Naomi, an incoming sophomore at Seaholm High School, layered five cookies with ice cream and whipped cream to create an unforgettable dessert that is sure to satisfy any sweet tooth. To work off the energy from all the sugar, the teens played Just Dance, and many joined in.

Grand prizes were handed out throughout the duration of the event and coupons to Dairy Mat were given to all the teens who had logged more than twenty hours of reading. Three lucky winners of the raffle got iTunes and bookstore gift cards.
Ms. Phou says, “These events are very important in order to give recognition for what the students have read over the summer and to encourage teens to compete to win the grand prizes. Also, it allows for them to see some friends who they wouldn’t have seen otherwise over the summer.”

Bringing the community together is an obvious goal of the Baldwin Public Library, and the librarians’ hard work makes this possible.

At the beginning of the event, it was clear that many of the kids were not acquainted with one another, but by the end, everyone made fast friends. Students who didn’t know each other played games and joked around with one another. One of the 6th graders said, “I really like coming to these events to see friends and meet new people.” The library sets up these amazing events targeted toward older age groups to have teens get out of their houses and have some fun with others in the same age group.

The small village that sits along Telegraph and 14 Mile Road may not be as well-known as its surrounding communities, like Beverly Hills, Franklin or Birmingham, but it has a charm all its own.

"If you’re looking for a tranquil retreat, Bingham Farms is it," said Kathyrn Hagaman, village clerk for Bingham Farms.

It seems that tranquil is the word one can readily associate with Bingham Farms. Spanning just 1.25 miles, the village is home to just over 1,000 residents with a median home price of $381,190.

The peace comes from not only its small size, but also the fact that many of the residential lots are larger than those in surrounding communities. Shaded with numerous trees and enjoying a woodsy feel, Bingham Farms also values its proximity to nature.

For more than 60 years, Bingham Farms has valued its residential character. Prior to its incorporation, moves were made to annex the area that is now Bingham Farms into becoming part of the city of Southfield. That did not sit well with the residents in the future Bingham Farms, however. They believed the natural landscape and quality of the neighborhoods in the area made it important to retain a separate identity.

It was incorporated as a village in 1955, taking its name from Carson Bingham, one of the five original drafters of the village charter. In the years after it became a village, residential development began to threaten the natural habitat that drew residents to the area in the first place. However, with strategic land use plans and ordinances, the pure woodsy charm of the area is largely intact.

Bingham Farms has its own village council, and is served by the Franklin Bingham Fire Department and Franklin Bingham Police Department. Birmingham Public Schools is the village’s public school district.

Residents are able to experience both the peace of their hometown and the conveniences of being located so close to larger cities. Hagaman pointed out, Bingham Farms is “immersed in nature yet at a crossroad to major highways and convenient to high-end shopping and restaurants.”

America is growing up. With 10,000 baby boomers retiring every day, the 50-plus population is one of the fastest-growing demographics in the United States. How boomers can stay active and enjoy a fulfilling life is the main theme of the second annual Boomer Summit in Birmingham.

Cris Braun, executive director of the Next 50-plus activity center, said the summit offers something for anyone in search of ideas and inspiration on how to navigate the next chapter of their lives.

"Many people are retiring from successful careers, but how do you go from success to significance?" Braun said. "Whether you are soon to be retired or have been retired for years, Boomer Summit offers guidance to those facing the excitement and uncertainty of what's next."

The Boomer Summit takes place from 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday, Oct. 14, at Seaholm High School, 2436 W. Lincoln. Registration and a vendor showcase begins at 8 a.m. Tickets are $10 apiece at the door and can also be purchased online at www.BirminghamNext.org.

Vendors will fill the school auditorium with information about financial, lifestyle and health services that are available to boomers. Many of the vendors will be offering giveaways, including a raffle for a pair of round-trip Delta tickets provided by Departure Travels. At the end of the morning session, there will be a food truck outside the school so attendees can grab lunch.

The event also features a prominent list of guest speakers:

» Media personality Chuck Galdica, who will share own experiences and explain how choosing an unconventional path to retirement might be the way to go.

» Alicia Simon, former director of the College for Creative Studies Life-long Learning Department and currently with the University of Michigan. Simon will explore ways to stay sharp through creativity.

» Ginna Holmes, executive director of the Michigan Community Service Commission, the state’s lead agency on volunteerism.

» Former Detroit Mayor Dave Bing, an NBA Hall of Fame player who played 10 years with the Detroit Pistons. As the founder of Bing Steel, Bing was awarded National Minority Business Person of the Year in 1984.

» Kerry Hannon, a nationally-recognized expert and strategist on career transitions, personal finance and retirement.

» Lomas Brown, a former NFL player who spent 12 years with the Detroit Lions and now enjoys a successful career in broadcast. Brown will speak about starting a second career.

The Boomer Summit is being presented by Next, the Birmingham Shopping District, the city of Birmingham and the Baldwin Public Library. The Jef-fares Group is premier sponsor. To learn more about the Boomer Summit or other upcoming events, go to www.BirminghamNext.org.

“Don’t grow older in Birmingham, you grow smarter,” Birmingham City Commissioner Patty Bordsman said. “And that’s because we have access to such enlightening programming like the Boomer Summit.”

Finance, health and leisure to headline second Boomer Summit

BIRMINGHAM — Retirement isn’t about early-bird dinner specials anymore.

For baby boomers, turning 65 is about traveling, saving and not just living, but thriving well into their golden years.

A new era in retirement means learning about a new philosophy on aging from experts in the industry. For the second year in a row, local residents can do just that at Next. Birmingham’s center for the over-50 community.

The Boomer Summit will take place 8 a.m.-noon Saturday, Oct. 14, in the auditorium of Seaholm High School. Guests can peruse vendor booths and hear presentations from a variety of well-known speakers, including television personality Chuck Gaidica and NBA Hall of Famer and former Detroit Mayor Dave Bing.

“We probably started seeking out speakers...

and planning this summit about eight months ago,” said Next Executive Director Kris Braun. “Particularly with Kerry Hannon, who’s a nationally recognized expert on personal finance and retirement. She’s coming from (Washington), D.C. for this, because we wanted to have the best person around to speak on this topic.”

Also on the docket to speak at the summit is Lomax Brown, an ESPN analyst and broadcast, who will discuss “Second Acts: How to Go from Success to Significance.”

Alicia Simon, from the College for Creative Studies Lifelong Learning Department, and Gina Holmes, of the Michigan Community Service Commission, will talk about the importance of volunteering.

During last year’s event, the volunteer presentation was one that stood out to Birmingham resident Lynne Doyle.

“I think we all want to be more active in the community,” she said. “And I enjoyed the travel expert who put a new twist on travel, particularly traveling alone with clubs or travel groups. And I enjoyed the integrated medicine physician who talked about various ailments and conditions the older population tends to have, and how to live a better life with treatments like massage and acupuncture combined with regular medical care.”

Doyle, 70, added that the vendors were useful as well to illuminate some of the resources available for the over-50 crowd. After all, comfortable retirement takes years to master.

“I would say the important thing to remember is this is as relevant for people in their 50s as it is for those in their 80s. There’s something for everyone,” she said.

Two Delta round-trip tickets will be raffled off courtesy of Departure Travel, and Birmingham Roast will provide coffee for visitors. Food trucks will be on-site as well.

“If you’re just getting ready to retire or 10 years into retirement, you can come and get ideas and inspiration to put into practice,” Braun said. “Or just come and spend a nice half-day with us; it really is a good time.”

Tickets to the second annual Boomer Summit cost $10 and can be purchased at BirminghamNext.org or at the door the day of the event.

Glen Michaels

World renowned architectural sculptor Glen Michaels is a character... both literally and figuratively. His good friend, the late Eimore Leonard, named a character after him in his mystery novel, "Out of Sight." "But Eimore told me he purposely spelled my first name with two n's so I wouldn't sue him," Michaels says.

Born in Spokane, Washington in 1927, the Birmingham resident says he started taking piano lessons when he was just six years old. "And I was always doing drawings while in grade school. I had a talented aunt who was a costume designer and she would often take me sketching," he says. "Painting and drawing was a natural thing in my family."

After he was released from the Army, the GI Bill of Rights gave Michaels the means to study piano at Yale University, but after two years there "I decided I was interested in creating drawings, not music," he says.

In 1956, at the recommendation of a friend, Michaels enrolled at the Crainbrook Academy of Art and received an MFA in painting one year later.
From 1958 to 1965, he supervised the academy's workshops for kids six to eighteen years old.

Eventually, when Michaels concluded he didn't really enjoy creating traditional still life paintings any more, a visit to a local dump turned out to be serendipitous. "I found all kinds of collectible things that I took home to my apartment in Birmingham," he says. "And once I put hundreds of tiles on their edges, leaning against each other, I discovered it created shadows quite like the motion of undulating waves."

Glen's most recent major piece, a spectacular sculpture completed in 2014, is located above a fireplace in the lobby of St. Joseph Mercy Oakland Hospital in Pontiac. Approximately 14 feet long, it consists of mosaic tiles that are topped with industrial glass rods and other collage materials, including peacock feathers, gold leaf, wooden pieces cut out by a toymaker, wooden cigar molds, fused glass, square brass rods that have been highly polished and waxed; iridescent glass, shale, several pieces of wood that have a leached look and are enhanced with paint, pieces of Tiffany glass that have been saved for him by local antique dealers and reglets (wood spacers used to set up type.) "I cut most of these pieces by hand," Michaels says. "And I have the scars to prove it."

Another fascinating sculpture, a fourteen by five foot assemblage called "Medieval Tapestry," graces the front stairway of Birmingham's Baldwin Public Library. By backing the piece with a specially constructed curved armature, Michaels was able to give it the same beautiful waveling quality that is commonly found in medieval tapestries.

On the other end of the spectrum, innumerable smaller sculptures by Michaels can be found dwelling in both homes and corporations throughout the United States.

Just recently, on April 7th, the Scarab Club, the renowned 110-year old artist's club, gallery and studio located in Midtown Detroit, honored Glen by asking him to sign one of the wooden ceiling beams located in their second floor lounge. Previous signers include Diego Rivera, Norman Rockwell, Elie Saarinen, Marshall Fredericks, Marcel Duchamp and Balthazar Korab. And on October 6th, Michaels will be the recipient of the 2017 Birmingham Cultural Arts Award.

When asked to name his favorite sculpture, Michaels replied:
"Whatever is the most recent is always my favorite."

Glen Michaels, named the 2017 Cultural Arts Award winner, has "made a huge impact on art and architecture in his era," said Marcy Fisher, co-chair of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Cultural Arts Council, along with Anita Guor. They led the committee that chose the 2017 winner.

Michaels has had an illustrious career in the arts, which has included music, ceramics, portraiture and making assemblages that are on display in hospitals, public buildings and homes throughout the country.

While he was a child in the state of Washington, Michaels began drawing caricatures and then went on to painting, doing murals with his brother. He had taken lessons from a WPA artist. He had always been fascinated by architecture.

"My wife (Jackie) was my favorite critic. She always gave me straight answers on portraits."

GLEN MICHAELS
2017 Cultural Arts Award winner

He also studied piano and, during World War II, he entertained at military installations. He studied piano at Yale School of Music for two years and completed college in Washington. He came to the Detroit area in 1957 to obtain a master of fine arts degree at Cranbrook. He studied ceramics and painting.

"I stretched my own large canvases," he said.

Michaels stayed in the Detroit area and developed his special approach to art, making assemblages.

Ken Gross, who nominated Michaels for the Cultural Arts Award, said, "Always busy, always inventing, he was in advance of his time in repurposing utilitarian items and findings such as piano keys, cigar molds, metal, glass and tile. He takes his inspiration from nature, history and art, spanning all cultures and time periods."

Many local hospitals display Michaels’s works, including St. Joseph Mercy, Beaumont, Detroit Receiving Hospital and Providence, Baldwin Public Library and the Detroit People Mover also feature his large installations. Many homes feature his private commissions for assemblages.

Michaels and his late wife Jackie remained in the Detroit area and raised their three children here.

"My wife was my favorite critic," said Michaels, 90. "She always gave me straight answers on portraits."

His children, Paul, John and Suzanne, took for granted his presence in their home all day every day. His studio was there. Recently, his two sons helped with an installation at St. Joe's Hospital.

Michaels has fond memories of a trip he took to Japan. He lived in a Zen temple for three weeks, describing it as a quiet contemplative place. He drew a portrait of the head priest and received a beautiful drawing in return, which he has hanging in his Birmingham apartment. The Japanese art was an inspiration for his work.

One of his memorable projects was the design and installation of a glazed brick patio at the home of Hawkins Ferry in Grosse Pointe at the request of Bill Kessler, the architect.

Many art lovers commissioned Michaels for portraits.

"I am always sketching. I carry a sketchbook or have one nearby," Michaels said. In his apartment, he had a portrait of his granddaughter that he recently painted.

"He touches the paper and it comes to life," Ken Gross said. "He is a superb craftsman and does extraordinary portraits."

Michaels's assemblages adorn the Bank Lloyd House in Bloomfield Township, built by the late Maxwell and Sarah Smith.

"I had an instant rapport with the Smiths," Michaels said. "They had a welcoming quality and were wonderful hosts. I was lucky to meet them. It was nice working with them. Their enthusiasm for the projects was wonderful. I admired Frank Lloyd Wright very much."

Michaels has served as a mentor and teacher to many artists. His daughter, Suzanne Barbero, said, "Our house always was welcoming to artists and architects. Night and day, there were frequent visitors. It was normal for our father to be inventing and creating stuff in his basement studio. We could help sometimes. It was a fun house to grow up in."

These days, Barbero is very helpful in making life easier and safer for her father as he moves around his apartment. She cherishes the memories of her childhood and adulthood and the influences of her father.

One time she was away from home and without playthings. He made paper dolls for her and she happily played with them, appreciating his creativity benefiting her life.

Michaels will be honored 6-8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 6, at the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Center. The public is welcome to attend.

Birmingham, MI – Mike Kroll is one of four people running for three seats on the Baldwin Public Library Board in Birmingham on Nov. 7. Also on the ballot are Ashley Aidenbaum, Melissa S. Mark and Frank Pisano.

Kroll has a Masters in Library Science from Wayne State University and has worked in libraries for 40 years, mainly in science and technology including at Harper Hospital, an aerospace research library, and Safety Engineering focusing on fire safety. He also became a certified fire inspector to gain hand-on insight for his work.

“I think the reason that people should vote for me is not only my experience and expertise in libraries, I do have a long term knowledge of that, having served in libraries over the years, but also I think that it might be a good reason to vote for me is it gives me an opportunity to give some pay back to the profession as a volunteer on the board. I would say that would probably be the two reasons.”

Gunnar Birkerts, who brought light and elegance to his architecture, dies at 92

Gunnar Birkerts, a modernist architect who created dozens of elegant, gleaming buildings around the world, including a national library in his native Latvia that has become the country’s symbolic “Castle of Light,” died Aug. 15 at his home in Needham, Mass. He was 92.

The cause was congestive heart failure, said a son, the literary critic Sven Birkerts.

Mr. Birkerts began sketching buildings as a teenager in Latvia, studied architecture in Germany and built his career in Michigan, where he was a protege of the Finnish American architect Eero Saarinen.
In 1982, a survey of architecture professors named Mr. Birkerts one of the country’s 10 most important architects of “nonresidential structures,” along with I.M. Pei, Philip Johnson and others.

With one of his first major buildings, the Federal Reserve Bank in Minneapolis (completed in 1974 and now a commercial office building), Mr. Birkerts adapted construction principles of the suspension bridge, with most of the building’s floors supported by cables, allowing for a column-free interior. The idea was further reflected in the glass facade, with a deeply curving line reminiscent of bridge cables.

Mr. Birkerts rarely repeated himself throughout his career and did not have a signature visual style, other than an ingenious ability to arrange windows and mirrors to refract light deep inside his buildings.
“I suppose I just feel too secure to need a dogma,” he told The Washington Post in 1980. He rejected unified design theories because “they take out the spirit of invention.”

Some of his buildings, such as the U.S. Embassy in Caracas, Venezuela, which seemed to grow naturally from its setting in the foothills of the Andes, had an organic, earthy quality. His corporate headquarters for Domino’s Pizza in Ann Arbor, Mich., was designed, at the behest of company founder Tom Monaghan, in the low, ground-hugging manner of Frank Lloyd Wright’s Prairie Style.

Mr. Birkerts’s Calvary Baptist Church in Detroit is an orange pyramid thrusting out of the earth. Other buildings, including the Corning Museum of Glass in Corning, N.Y., and the Kemper Museum of Contemporary Art in Kansas City, Mo., used concrete, glass and steel in ways that seemed to flow, almost as if shaped by hand.

The Corning museum, which opened in 1980, “has the sensible beauty of a hand-cut crystal tumbler,” architecture critic Wolf Von Eckardt wrote in The Post. “And like a crystal tumbler, the building can be viewed as a precious work of art or as practical utensil.”

Mr. Birkerts designed many buildings on college campuses, including additions to libraries at Cornell University, the University of California at San Diego and the University of Michigan, where Mr. Birkerts was a longtime faculty member. At Michigan’s Ann Arbor campus, he built an underground law library addition that filtered light into three subterranean levels.

Mr. Birkerts said an architect should be “someone who has compassion for humanity,” adding that “architecture may indeed be an art of accommodation, but it is also an art of communication.”
Gunnar Gunivaldis Birkerts was born Jan. 17, 1925, in Riga, Latvia. His parents were divorced when he was an infant, and he was raised by his mother, a teacher and folklorist.

As a teenager during World War II, he fled his country to escape the Russian army as it approached his homeland. Latvia, which was independent during Mr. Birkerts’s childhood, became a satellite state of the Soviet Union.

He moved to Germany, where he received dual degrees in architecture and engineering in 1949 from what is now Stuttgart Technology University of Applied Sciences. While there, he met his future wife, also a native of Latvia.

Mr. Birkerts then came to the United States, where he hoped to work for Saarinen, who designed the St. Louis Gateway Arch and the main terminal at Dulles International Airport.

Knowing that Saarinen worked late at night, Mr. Birkerts went to the architect’s Michigan office after hours and introduced himself. Saarinen didn’t have a job opening at the time but recommended Mr. Birkerts to a firm in Chicago. After a year, Mr. Birkerts joined Saarinen’s office, where his colleagues included such budding architectural giants as Cesar Pelli, Kevin Roche and Robert Venturi.

Mr. Birkerts later worked at a firm headed by Minoru Yamasaki, who designed the World Trade Center in New York, before opening his own architecture practice in 1963. He taught at the University of Michigan from 1959 to 1990 and moved to Massachusetts in 2007.
Survivors include his wife of 67 years, the former Sylvia Zvirbulis of Needham; three children, Sven Birkerts of Arlington, Mass., Erik Birkerts of Lake Bluff, Ill., and Andra Birkerts-Footer of Wellesley, Mass.; and seven grandchildren.

Mr. Birkerts often explored architectural ideas by drawing rough conceptual sketches he called “brainwaves.” His finished buildings, including the National Library of Latvia, often show few changes from the early sketches. When he received the commission for the library in 1989, he imagined it as a reflection of the historic Latvian notion of the “crystal mountain,” which few people had the courage or tenacity to scale.

After Latvia won its independence in 1991, Mr. Birkerts decided the library would embody another element of Latvian folklore, that of the Castle of Light, representing the abiding strength of wisdom amid the country’s rebirth of freedom.

“Allegiance to history and culture, and not simply the mode of the day,” he told Blueprint magazine in 2014, “is essential to the lasting quality I strive for in my architecture.”

After 25 years, the library was finally completed in 2014. It rises like a shimmering mountain beside a river, with vertical strips of windows aligned to represent birch trees.

“The birch forest is as Latvian as they come,” Mr. Birkerts said.

Inside, the eight-story atrium blossoms with crystalline light, reflecting off triangular metal fins hanging from the ceiling.
This year, Mr. Birkerts won the Library Building Award of the American Institute of Architects, which pronounced the library a “contemporary Modernist masterpiece.” It was perhaps his greatest design and was certainly his most personal.

Before the library opened its doors, 14,000 Latvian citizens formed a mile-long human chain to pass books from the old library to Mr. Birkerts’s new structure — the accumulated wisdom of a nation moving from one hand to the next until it was safely stored in the Castle of Light.
The Junior League of Birmingham, Inc. will host award winning career and life style coach Sherry Welsh, 7-8:30 p.m., Oct. 19 at the Baldwin Public Library, 300 W Merrill St., Birmingham.

“Welsh’s lecture is designed to help audience members find their voice to communicate more effectively, whether they are for asking for a raise, more responsibility at the office, more independence, more time or any other goal,” according to a press release from the Junior League.

Tickets for the event are $40 for nonmembers and $25 for members and includes Welsh’s book, “Slow Down-Unexpected Way To Thrive As A Leader”. Purchase tickets at www.jlbham.org/product-category/training-opportunities.
