He stated that County Commissioner Taub suggested that he mention GoGoGrandparent, a new service that RHPL is now offering for patrons who cannot use a cell phone for obtaining transportation services like Uber and Lyft. Pisano congratulated Teen Librarian Elisabeth Phou for having a lockin for high school students on a recent Saturday evening during the study period before final exams. Seventy-five teens and six therapy dogs attended the extended-hours event.

Mark updated the Board and public on the efforts of the fundraising committee and the May 22 event at Rivage Day Spa. She also gave a report on the October 19 Books and Bites event.

Aidenbaum discussed the recent meeting she, Mark, and Koschik attended with liaisons from the Birmingham Public Arts Board. A request for submissions will be issued for the loan of a sculpture to be displayed for a minimum of two years on the southwest lawn of the Library.

Pisano acknowledged the following anniversaries and expressed his appreciation for the employees' years of service: Christie (12 years); Dreer (16 years); Kalisky (2 years); Phou (13 years); and, Sartwell (2 years).

4. Library Report

Koschik and Craft highlighted key points of the complete report, which can be found on pages 19 to 34 of the March Board packet.

5. Liaisons

Friends of the Library: No report

Beverly Hills: No report

Bloomfield Hills: No report

6. Unfinished Business: None

7. New and Miscellaneous Business: Koschik presented the proposed budgets for FY 2018-2019 and FY 2019-2020. The complete budget report is on pages 35 to 48 of the March Board packet.

The budget request calls for a continuation of 1.1 mills from Birmingham for operating expenses, an additional 0.2983 mills in FY 2018-19 to begin pre-funding the Youth Services expansion and renovation, and an additional 0.2819 mills in FY 2019-20 to continue funding the Youth project.

Featured in the budget are:

- Continued strong support for programs, collections, and technology
- Modest pay increases
- New part-time Youth Librarian position
- New part-time Adult Services intern position
- More marketing and publicity efforts
- Equipment and supplies for the Idea Lab
- Furniture, carpet, painting, and electrical improvements in parts of the building not covered by the long-range building plan (Lower level, Grand Hall, and second floor)
- More extensive furniture and carpet cleaning
- Potentially, a new integrated library system to handle Baldwin's circulation, cataloging, acquisitions, and online catalog

Suhay requested that the budget presentation be sent electronically to the Board members. Aidenbaum asked whether the modest pay raises were linked to COLA or merit. Koschik stated that the increases are based upon annual performance reviews. Tera mentioned that the Director's salary is in the middle of the range of comparable libraries and asked where other positions in the library fell relative to comparable libraries. Koschik stated salaries at BPL are somewhat lower than at comparable libraries, especially at the lower ends of ranges. Therefore, this year employees in the lower half of their salary ranges will receive higher percentage increases than employees in the upper half of their salary ranges. Pisano mentioned the increased competition for skilled personnel in light of the stronger economy and the need to retain trained valuable employees. Tera reminded the Board that, during the Great Recession, there were holds at Baldwin on salaries as well as various cuts in response to the collapsing economy. Today, he believes we have one of the finest libraries in Michigan, and we need to compensate our staff accordingly, while maintaining fiscal discipline. Finally, Suhay asked that the updated aerial rendering of the Youth Services expansion and the children's garden be sent to the Board.

Tera then read the motion on page 47 in its entirety.
