Pertaining to digitization of the Birmingham Eccentric, Pisano asked if librarians have looked into what other libraries are doing to bring costs down. A previous quote for digitization was $60,000. Craft responded that BPL has put that project on hold due to the significant cost and because a volunteer at the Bloomfield Township Library has been working on digitizing the Eccentric.

7. Liaisons

Friends: Ryndee Carney reported the Friends Bookshop opened on November 1. The Friends will hold a book and media sale on December 9-10. Memberships are down by $1000 from last year. The Friends will donate $2,000 to the Library to purchase two trees for the new front terrace. Book and media donations are now accepted on any day or time during Library hours.

Beverly Hills: Andrew Drummond looks forward to working with the Board while he finishes previous liaison Mike White’s term. He thanked staff for their participation in the Halloween Hoot. The Village of Beverly Hills is planning on expanding the event footprint next year.

Bloomfield Hills: There was no report.

Bingham Farms: Kathy Mechigian reported there is now a page for the Library on the Village of Bingham Farms website. Mechigian would like to work with Craft and Miller to add further information and events.

8. Phase 3: Renovation Update:

Craft provided a Phase 3 renovation update. On November 1, the center gallery opened. The Bookshop and new study rooms have received good reception. Carpentry changes and a sewer access point may affect the contingency budget. This week, roofing is being installed. Next week, the outdoor patio floor will be poured and planters will be installed. The budget is tracking well. The Building Committee will be recommending decisions about indoor tables and chairs.

9. New & Miscellaneous Business:

Discussion about Committee Appointments:
Rumple will leave the Outreach Committee. Friedman will join the Outreach Committee. Pisano will join the Building Committee.
